

LARRY KINSELLA

Primitive Technologist

As an avocational archaeologist since 1966, Larry has presented primitive technology and experimental archaeology to all ages through fun and educational programs. Larry presents his unique programs to schools, libraries, museums, colleges, knap-ins and primitive skill gatherings around the country.

Larry has instructed at Dickson Mounds, Center for American Archaeology, and Cahokia Mounds. His work is on display at such locations as the Gilcrease Institute (Tulsa, OK), Cahokia Mounds, Giant City, and The Illinois State Museum. Larry's work has also been featured on the Discovery Channel, BBC, and the History Channel.

Larry will demonstrate the use of primitive tools in his program (Stone Axes, Atlatls, Banner Stones, Flint Knives, Arrow Points, and Fire-making). This 45 minute program is suitable for first graders through adults. An additional 15 minutes will be required if a question and answer session is to follow.

Larry's work has been featured on the DISCOVERY CHANNEL, PBS, BBC, and the HISTORY CHANNEL

LARRY'S PROGRAMS AND DEMONSTRATIONS INCLUDE:

- Flintknapping (Demos and Hands-on)
Stone axes
Primitive fire making
- Atlatl (Interactive hands on)
Artifact Identification
Experimental Archaeology
- Cordage (Interactive hands on)

“THANKS FLINTNAPER DUDE!”

FT. Zumwalt, MO

“GREAT PROGRAM!”

Spring Valley, IL

“I COULDN'T HAVE LEARNED MORE WITH A TIME MACHINE!”

Columbia, IL

1ST PERFORMANCE $350
2ND PERFORMANCE $200
3RD PERFORMANCE $100
ALL DAY PRICE $700

FOR MORE SHOW INFORMATION VISIT WWW.ELSENPETERPRODUCTIONS.COM

WILL HELP SATISFY STATE REQUIREMENTS IN
History/Science/Health | K - Adult | Theme Based or Pure Entertainment

ELSENPETER PRODUCTIONS P.O. BOX 33, BARRY , IL 62312 • 217-335-3338